'Probably Overthinking It More notebooks for Think Stats

April 26th, 2020 - As I mentioned in the previous post I am getting ready to teach Data Science in the spring so I am going back through Think Stats and updating the Jupyter notebooks I am done with Chapters 1 through 6 now If you are reading the book you can get the notebooks by cloning this repository on GitHub and running the notebooks on your puter Or you can read but not run the notebooks on GitHub'

May 1st, 2020 - Because 2e calculates modifiers in the same way as 1e having boosts be in multiples of 2 streamlines the process significantly. With how boosts are structured one can have an 18 regardless if the race you chose has a flaw in that ability which was not possible in 1e. I can only think of two minor criticisms of the boost system'

'Think Stats by Allen B Downey Goodreads

April 25th, 2020 - I saw Allen Downey give a talk on Bayesian stats and it was fun and informative. I think he's great. One annoyance I think I'm maybe the perfect audience for this book: someone who took stats long ago, has worked with data ever since in some capacity, but has moved further and further away from the first principles fundamentals'

'5e vs 2e DnD reddit

April 30th, 2020 - 2e was great in its day and I still love it. However, the majority of newer players 3X and above just don't get the allure of 2e. Hell, many oldies have grown out of 2e. It was a different game for a different time. If you're trying to get new players or convert players from pre-5e but not as far back as 2e, I would recommend a new system'. Drow Fotten Realms Wiki Fandom
